

SOCIAL EVENTS

MIDDY MAIDENS WITH MISS FRANK.

The Middy Maidens enjoyed the evening yesterday as the guests of Miss Alma Frank, 2712 Eighteenth avenue, spending the time sewing, chatting, with music and games. The house was decorated in red and green and was pretty and inviting. A course lunch was served in the dining room in the late evening with covers laid for 12 girls. The club will be entertained in two weeks by Miss Martha Schubert, 1101 Eleventh street.

COFFEES FOR ZION CHURCH

Four members of the Ladies' Aid society of Zion Lutheran church entertained at their respective homes at coffee parties for the benefit of the church yesterday afternoon. The hostesses being Mrs. A. Danielson, 111 Fifth avenue, Moline; Mrs. A. G. Swenson, 1211 Thirty-eighth street; Mrs. Emil Anderson, Sixth avenue and Twenty-eighth street; and Mrs. M. E. Joranson, 1222 Forty-first street. At each of the homes the patronage was very good and nice sums of money will be realized from the collections.

On Monday evening Mrs. C. E. Nelson at her home 948 Thirty-eighth street entertained at a coffee also for the benefit of Zion church, entertaining a company of 30. The time was spent playing games and in general sociability.

QUEEN ESTHER CIRCLE MEETS.
A large number of the members of the Queen Esther circle of the First Methodist church gathered at the home of Miss Julia Marshall, 930 Nineteenth street, last evening for the monthly

Tomorrow Inspect M. & K. Waist Bargains

Beautiful Models. Valued Up to $35. Offered in Four Lots—$1, $2.50, $5 and $10.

FRIDAY IS SELLING DAY.

Tomorrow is inspection day. Friday is selling day of M. & K.'s big "Round-up" sale this week.

This morning the beautiful waists in silk, lace, net, etc., and in a rich variety of models and shades were grouped together in four lots to sell at $1, $2.50, $5 and $10. It was then decided to postpone the selling day to Friday and make tomorrow inspection day. Women of the tridities are invited to visit M. & K.'s garment section tomorrow to examine these rare waist bargains, but none will be sold before 9 a. m. Friday. Many women who attended our three other successful sales stopped to admire these beautiful waists and inquired when they would be put on sale. The opportunity has come.

The waist sale will be only one big feature of M. & K.'s "Round-up" positively the last of the February clearance sales. Bargains in suits, coats and dresses will also be the order of the day. The big ad in The Argus tomorrow will give complete details. Look for it. Come in tomorrow on inspection day.—(Adv.)

Miss Esther Osborn

The American girl who rose to first rank as an operatic singer in Stockholm, Berlin and Hamburg, will be heard in Moline at the concert of the Swedish National Chorus in the First Lutheran church, Thursday evening, Feb. 26. Her voice has the rich lyric beauty typical of northern singers, and 19 years of European training enables her to use it with great skill. Though young in years, her art is mature, and she sings with ease and authority. The grace and maidenly charm of her personality adds not a little to the hearers' enjoyment of Miss Osborn's art.

session. Following the transaction of business matters the chapter on the Indian and government in the study book "In Redman's Land" was taken up and discussed. Miss Lucille Hazard gave a vocal number. A delightful lunch was served during the social time. The Misses Nina and Stella Reid will entertain the circle at the next meeting.

RELIGIOUS CLUB SESSION.

Members of the Religious club of Grace Lutheran church were entertained in the home of Reuben Lindstrom, 4210 Seventh avenue, last evening at the monthly session. The club was addressed by Andrew Kempe on the subject of government appropriations, routine business following its discussion. During an hour of sociability a lunch was served.

CLUB DINNER DANCE.

The last dinner-dance of the season will be held at the Rock Island club March 4 in connection with the regular club night. Arrangements have been made for "a great big" dinner, queer and unusual stunts by new and proficient artists will add spice to the delicious dinner, according to the invitations issued to the affair, which further state "If you want peace and quiet for sober reflection—stay home; if you like fun and music and art as a diversion—then come." Reservations will close March 2.

LADIES G. A. R. GUESTS MRS. KOCH.

Thirty members of Colonel Brack's circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. were entertained at an all-day session yesterday at the home of Mrs. Mary Koch, 825 Twelfth street. The ladies spent the time making quilt blocks, and in sewing for the annual Easter bazaar. At noon the hostess served a delicious dinner. The collection for the day amounted to $5.60.

In the evening the husbands of the members were invited to join the ladies and the time was passed playing the game of 500, the hostess serving a light lunch during the evening.

The regular meeting of the circle will be held next Tuesday afternoon in Memorial hall in the court house.

HOSTESS TO CARD CLUB.

Mrs. A. A. Rounds at her home, 1923 1/2 Third avenue, yesterday afternoon entertained the members of the card club to which she belongs at the fortnightly session. In the games of 500 the first prize was awarded to Mrs. Larson and the second to Mrs. H. Anderson of Moline. A lunch was served at the conclusion of the games and the club adjourned to meet in two weeks with Wellander in Moline.

TALENT ASSURES CONCERT SUCCESS.

The musical success of the concert to be given by the Swedish National chorus is assured in so far as thorough preparation goes. Professor Bergquist has put the large body of male singers through a month of energetic drilling for the annual concert scheduled for Thursday night. A special rehearsal with the Augustana College orchestra was held Sunday afternoon and a second extra rehearsal will be held just before the concert, when Miss Esther Osborn will go over Soderberg's "The Bird," which will be sung with choral accompaniment. A marked feature will be the rendition of "The Lost Chord" by chorus and orchestra, bringing out the full melodic effect of Sullivan's work.

Miss Osborn, the Minneapolis singer, who by her leading roles in opera, made her name known throughout Europe, will be heard in a lyrical group of songs and in selections from her favorite operatic roles. While here Miss Osborn will be the guest of her uncle, Professor Carl L. Esbjorn, Thirty-fourth street and Ninth and a half avenue.

Individual numbers are to be rendered by four individual male choruses, the Wennerberg and Lutheran of Augustana college, the Apollo Glee club of Rock Island, and the Svea of Moline.

This concert is given under the patronage of a number of Rock Island and Moline people.

The following is the list of patrons for the concert, Andrew Kempe and Oscar T. Bohman being the committee in charge:

The Helen Gould auxiliary to the United Spanish War Veterans will serve dinner Thursday noon in Memorial hall in the court house to which they invite the public.

Poor Gas.

Some men were riding in the smoker end of a Pullman car recently when one of them referred in a rather uncomplimentary way to the gas supply that was dished up in his home town.

"Yours may be bad enough," reflectively commented a party named Jones, "but I want to say right here that we have the worst gas of any town in the United States."

"That is saying a whole lot," returned the first speaker. "Do you really mean it?"

"You just bet a hundred that I mean it," was the vigorous rejoinder of Jones. "Every morning when we go to cook breakfast we have to pour kerosene on the gas to start the fire in the first stove."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Placing the Defendant.

A local journal says that suit brought by a portly man against a little man with a hacking cough had gone to the jury, at which time it appeared from the evidence and instructions of the court that the big man had won the case. After half an hour the jury was called and asked if a verdict had been reached.

"No, your honor," replied the foreman. "We only want to know which is the defendant and which is the plaintiff."

"The large man sitting over there is the plaintiff and the small gentleman here is the defendant," replied the judge.

The jury filed back to the jury room. In a few minutes they signaled that they had reached a verdict. The judge read it and read:

"We, the jury, find for the man with the consumption."

HER HUSBAND SHOT SELF FEARING HER LOVE WOULD COOL

Mrs. S. W. Grote.

New York Feb. 24.—On her way to fulfill the last request of her husband, who committed suicide for fear that her love for him might grow cold, Mrs. S. W. Grote is aboard a Russia-bound steamer with his ashes, which she will scatter on his old homestead at Riga.

Revealing a remarkable romance, Mrs. Grote told of her husband's passion for her, of their happy life which came to a tragic end when 12 days after the wedding, Grote, fearing the time might come when she no longer would love him, ended the honeymoon by suicide. Her husband was the brother of the imperial physician of the Czar's court.

Mrs. Grote, who is known as Dr. Grote, is of Swedish birth and a woman of unusual charm. "He died because of his great love for me," she sobbed to a reporter. "He loved me so greatly that he died for me; died because he could not endure the thought that some day I might not love him. He died like a gentleman. He left me everything, his life insurance, much jewelry, including the decorations that the Czar of Russia gave to his brother, and property in Riga, Russia."

FOSTER NEW PLAN TO RELIEVE POOR

HELPERS' CIRCLE, KING'S DAUGHTERS, WILL UNDERTAKE TO INTEREST WOMEN.

The Helpers' circle of King's Daughters is fostering a movement among the women of the city with the object in view of providing necessary articles for the poor and dependent of the city and the circle has evolved a plan that should appeal to every woman who is in any way interested in charity and relief. The circle is endeavoring to create interest in what they wish to term a Needlework guild, but which will be different from other such organizations in that there are to be neither dues, officers nor meetings and yet accomplish something for charity. The plan is this: The circle fostering the movement will begin by asking a certain number of women in the city to each contribute three articles that are alike to some cause to be designated by each individual, these women in turn to ask any number of friends to do likewise, each group of women enlarging the circle indefinitely, and on a given day all these articles will be collected and then distributed according to the desire or wish of each contributor.

The articles are to be similar and may be anything that the contributor cares to give, whether it be three pairs of stockings, three gowns of underwear, three wash cloths, three towels, three pairs of shoes, and, in fact, anything that can be used in any manner, provided only that they be new, for second-hand articles will not be accepted as these logically belong to the Associated Charities, Bethany home and other similar societies. The giver is to designate the charity to which she wants to give as Bethany home, the Visiting Nurse association, the Associated Charities, etc., or to any particular society or individual in which she may be interested, and her wishes will be strictly adhered to. As stated before, there will be no dues attached, no officers will be elected, no meetings will be held, but each lady who has asked another or several friends to contribute toward the cause will keep in mind the persons she has asked and as the day for the collection of the articles approaches will remind them of their obligation, lest they forget. The circle may set Oct. 1 as the day for the gathering in of these articles and for their distribution, although nothing definite has been arranged along these lines.

The idea is certainly a very good one and feasible and one in which every woman who cares to do so can join without any hardship attached to her obligation. It can readily be seen that a large number of useful articles can be collected in this manner, for if but 30 ladies ask 10 friends to contribute three articles the total would be 900, and these friends in turn asking others to donate three articles, the possibility of gathering a large number of articles is big. It is not the idea to have elaborate articles contributed and no standard of value will be attached, only that three articles of a like kind and new ones be given.

These connected actively with the work along charitable lines in the city know the great need of just such cooperation and assistance wherever they turn. In the work of the visiting nurses there is constant need of garments for small children and babies, that are in themselves inexpensive and yet for the purchase of which there is no money provided. Children are frequently kept from school during the winter months because of the want of proper clothing to protect them. In cases of sickness, there is constant demand for various articles of household linen and necessities that are woefully lacking in the homes of the poor.

With the idea worked out according to the plans outlined every woman can give aid that will mean a great help to all organizations in the city and at the same time impose upon her no hardship or task that she cannot with little difficulty accomplish. The circle will be very glad to receive volunteers in this movement, and it will before long be in a position to state more explicitly plans for the success of the movement.

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer. You get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the successful substitute for calomel—there is never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. They never cause a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 50c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 19 and have been going with a young man for several months. I care a great deal for him and apparently he does for me, so I have been refusing to go out with other young men, and he says he doesn't go out with any other girls. We are not engaged, though, and he lives in another town, so that I don't see him often. Do you think I am right in refusing to go with other fellows? One fellow who asked me to go out with him is a good friend of mine and I didn't like to hurt his feelings, so told him I would let him know later. Would it be all right to send him a letter and let him know?

V. G.
If I were you, dear, I would not refuse to go with other boys. You are at an age now when you should have a rather wide acquaintance with boys, so that when you settle down to one you can be sure that you really care for him. Write a letter to the good friend, I am sure that the boy for whom you care will not object if you have an understanding.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am 14 years old and am four feet 11 inches tall. How long should I wear my dresses?

(2) I would like to go to a party. Is it right for me to come home with a boy friend?

(3) Ought I to go to good movies if I go with older people?

(4) I went to a summer resort last summer and sent some boy friends post cards, just telling them about the weather and the good times I was having. Did I do right?

(5) Is it slang to say "chaps" for boys?

(6) I should like to ask you some secret questions. How can I do it?

BLONDY.
(1) To your shoe tops.
(2) Have your father call for you.
(3) Yes.
(4) There was no harm in it.
(5) It is not a very good expression.
(6) Send an envelope, stamped and addressed.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you kindly suggest a few good books that will be a help in overcoming a very backward nature? This defect, I believe, is caused greatly by nervousness, as when helping to serve at a social or party I cannot keep from trembling all over like one who has a chill. Another reason is that we were always very poor and ashamed to go out with people because of having poor clothing and nothing to spend. Still another cause is that I never mixed with the children when small. I am trying hard to overcome this and am improving, but want to reach the place where I can be perfectly natural and easy in the company of other people.

SIXTEEN.
Books will not help you as much as magazines. Read the Literary Digest, the Outlook and other standard magazines, so that you will know what is going on, and will be able to discuss current events with people. Of course, book knowledge is a good thing, too. If you send a stamped envelope I will send you a course in reading. Be with people as much as you can. You will gain ease with experience.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am very fond of a girl and would like to have her picture, but she will not give it to me. What shall I do to get it?

CLAUDE.
Perhaps she feels that she does not know you well enough. As a rule a girl objects to numerous boys having her picture.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A girl has asked me to go to a dance with her. Shall I send her flowers?

NORMAN.
If it is a formal dance, you should, if not, it is not necessary.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Would a pretty suit be all right to wear in the theatre?

C.W.S.
A suit is more often worn than anything else.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will a girl think that a boy is slow if he does not hold her hand?

BILLY.
A sensible girl will not.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

LENTEN DISHES.

Baked Rice and Cheese.—Three cups boiled rice. Make a sauce with one cup milk, two tablespoons flour, half pound cheese, half teaspoon salt. Into oiled baking dish put alternate layers of cooked rice and sauce, cover with bread crumbs and bake until brown.

Macaroni and Cheese.—Cook one cup macaroni in boiling water with half teaspoon salt and a little cayenne pepper. Drain in strainer and pour cold water over it to prevent pieces from adhering to each other. Make a sauce out of one cup milk, two tablespoons flour and one-fourth pound cheese grated. Put sauce and macaroni in alternate layers in buttered baking dish, cover with buttered crumbs and heat in oven until brown.

Macaroni With Cheese and Tomato Sauce.—Boiled macaroni may be heated in tomato sauce and sprinkled with grated cheese just before serving.

Fried Bread With Cheese.—Cut stale bread into thin slices, put two pieces together with grated cheese between them, dip into a mixture of eggs and milk and fry in butter or fat.

Welsh Rarebit.—Cook one teaspoon corn starch in one teaspoon butter; add half cup milk gradually and cook two minutes; add half pound cheese cut into small pieces and stir until melted; season with half teaspoon each of salt and mustard and a very little cayenne pepper. Serve on bread toasted on one side, the rarebit being poured over the untoasted side. Food value equals three-fourths pound of beef; cost, 13 cents.

Cheese Sandwiches.—Grate cheese, add salt, a few drops of vinegar and paprika with a little mustard; mix and spread between thin slices of bread.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDIES.

For tickling in the throat, coughing or hoarseness, a very good remedy is glycerin heated and rubbed hot as can be borne over the throat and chest, covering with warm flannel.

Cough Syrup.—Slice two or three onions into a bowl, cover well with sugar, set in a warm place until sugar dissolves, then give the syrup thus formed in small and frequent doses. This is especially good for small children, as it is perfectly harmless and is made from something we usually have on hand. If taken at the start, will cure a cough in a short time.

Fruit Laxative.—Put equal quantities of figs, dates and raisins through a food grinder with about one-fourth of the quantity of senna leaves reduced to a powder; the whole well mixed and pressed into a pan and shaped into small squares. One square at bedtime makes an agreeable laxative. It keeps indefinitely.

UP-TO-DATE RECIPES.

Oyster Stew (as a New York chef did it)—Put as much butter in kettle as needed for stew, add oysters and liquor, when oysters are curled and plump, salt, add equal quantities of boiling water and hot milk, and the stew is done—much quicker than old way. The same way for escalloped oysters, adding crushed crackers to right consistency.

Oyster Pie—Line a deep pie plate with pie crust; fill it with pieces of dry bread, cover with puff paste; bake till a light brown in quick oven. Have oysters just stewed by the time the crust is done; take off upper crust, remove pieces of bread, put in oysters, season with salt, pepper and butter—a little walnut catsup improves this pie, but it is not essential. Cover again with the crust.

Never-Fail Cake—Granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups; butter, one-half cup; flour, 2 1/2 cups; lukewarm water, one cup; eggs, two; baking powder, four teaspoons. This may be used for loaf or layer.

Original Tapioca-Apricot Floet (all measurements must be level)—Stale one cup sweet milk and two tablespoons minute tapioca until clear. Then beat yolk of one egg and two tablespoons sugar until light and add. Remove from fire when smooth like custard. Measure three cups stewed and sweetened apricots. Drain juice from fruit and pulp fruit. Beat white of one egg to a stiff froth, add two tablespoons sugar and fruit pulp and beat until smooth. Dissolve one envelope of plain minute gelatin in cold water. Add to boiling fruit juices. Have enough to make about one pint of gelatin. Put a spoonful of the tapioca in a sherbet glass. On it pile a spoonful of the froth. When gelatin is cool, but not cold, pour over. Chill. When ready to serve heap on whipped cream and place slice half of apricot on top. This is delicious and will serve eight.
